LINDSEY: So, yes. We just kind of sat around and just played video games.

HINES: So, what did you do all day?

LINDSEY: I sat there and watched them play video games. [LAUGHTER] Or was in the living room—

VERNE: [OVERLAP] not the whole time but—

LINDSEY: I life him some times and I would just go sit and watch reality TV in the living room. He didn't want to watch any kind of my shows.

HINES: Oh.

LINDSEY: So, I said, all right I'll see you later.

HINES: yes. That is a major no no for Lindsey. You know, when you're in a relationship you just have to do it.

14:57:23

VERNE: Yes.

HINES: Find ways to spend time together.

VERNE: Whenever you can.

HINES: Yes. Because when it's more one sided, then the other one doesn't feel appreciated.

VERNE: [OVERLAP] Maybe feels neglected. Yes.

HINES: Correct. So—

LINDSEY: [OVERLAP] He's starting to get it.

HINES: A lot of the stuff that Brittney and I talked about is I want to spend every second I got with her.

VERNE: Right.

HINES: Because I know I work my butt off during the season when I'm gone. So, when I'm home and off season, I want to try to make it up and give her that—

14:57:54

VERNE: Quality time.

HINES: Yes. It's all about quality time. What she needs. And that's what you have to provide as a spouse or a significant other some time-- she lets me know. Hey, put the game off.

LINDSEY: I let Verne know too.

VERNE: She did.

HINES: So, sitting around and just waiting, watching you playing video games—

VERNE: Yes.

HINES: I know that that didn't sit well with you.

LINDSEY: No, it didn't.

14:58:24

HINES: That didn't sit well with Lindsey at all but you know that's one of the things I love about her. She's kind of like fire and water. You know, we're just—

LINDSEY: that's exactly what we are.

HINES: She's fire. I'm water. I'm chill. And she needs upbeat. You know, that's called balance and I think ever since we found each other we found that balance in our lives. And that is what works for us so—

VERNE: That's awesome.

HINES: Sometimes you have to put that remote control down and figure out what Brittney wants to do.

BRITTNEY: yes, but, sometimes, I want my alone time and him playing those video games, yes, he's playing those video games. I'm out of here. Bam.
